UNDABOUT.
at Frankfort, Kentucky
a class mailable matter.

GEORGE A. LEWIS,
Editor and Publisher.

FRANKFORT, AUGUST 2, 1884.

The new Railroad Commissioners, Hon. J. P. Thompson, of Marion, Hon. A. R. Boone, of Graves and Hon. John D. Young, of Bath, met in this city on Saturday and organized by electing J. P. Thompson Chairman and Mr. Clarence Egbert, of this city, as Secretary.

The City Council has contracted with Mr. John T. Buckley for a large sunlight gas burner, similar to that in the First Presbyterian Church, to be placed in the Opera House. The whole house can then be lighted and the balcony and gallery not be so dark that programmes cannot be read by the occupants.

Sudden Death of Dr. Ayres.

As was his usual custom, Dr. Samuel Ayres arose about five o'clock yesterday morning, went to his store and swept it out. When about half through sweeping off the pavement in front of the door he was seen to stagger and fall to the sidewalk. Officer J. M. Stephens was coming down the street, Mr. Henry Ahler was standing in his door across the way, Mr. John Cornelius, of this office, was a short distance down the street, and all ran to him immediately but could do him no good. Mr. Stephens took his head in his lap and the old gentleman tried to speak but only gasped four times and expired. Apoplexy is supposed to have been the cause.

Dr. Ayres was raised in Danville, and for many years practiced his profession of Dentist in that place and Harrodsburg, and at the same time worked at his trade as a jeweler and watchmaker. In September, 1882, he came to this city and bought out Mr. Ben. F. Meek in the watchmaking business, and has since made this place his home. He was a quiet, dignified gentleman, who won the respect and esteem of all with whom he came in contact, and by close attention to business and skillful workmanship held the large custom turned over to him by Mr. Meek.

For many years he was a consistent member of the Christian Church, being at one time a minister of that denomination, and death was but the messenger sent to call him to that bright and happy home to reap the reward of a long and well spent life. He leaves a widow and several children, all grown, to mourn his loss.

Base Ball.

The Capital Club has been greatly strengthened by the acquisition of three new players.

Louisville's champion nine, the professionals, came up Wednesday and played a game with the Capitals at Lake Park. There were about 1,000 people on the ground, who enjoyed the game, though it was apparent the visitors were not playing their best. Our boys did not put up as good a game as they usually do, being short one of their best men, several of them got hurt during the game and positions had to be changed.

Hecker pitched the first five innings, and but two or three safe hits were made off him, though by a wild throw, a passed ball and a good hit in the third inning our boys managed to score four runs.

Reclus was put in to pitch in the sixth inning and our boys were allowed to make only one score during the balance of the game.

Buttner pitched well for the home team and Gaskin played first base to perfection until he was hit on the thumb by one of Hecker's balls while at the bat, after which he went to second. The rest of the infield did well, and made some very pretty plays. The score at the close stood 25 to 5 in favor of Louisville.

Manager Mike Walsh, of the Louisville Club, umpired the game.

The Georgetown Club and the Athletics, of this city, both colored, played a game at Lake Park yesterday afternoon. A silver set was offered as a prize to the winners.

Mr. C. N. Bryan and Miss Mollie N. Downing, both of Fayette county, were married by Rev. Dr. J. M. Lewis at Meriwether Hotel Wednesday evening.
